THE NEW CHURCH AT STOURTON.

LAYING OF THE CORNER STONE.

Up to 1850 there was an organised religious service conducted in the vicarage of Stourton, by the Church of England, but shortly after that date the services were discontinued, and the vicarage was left in a state of ruin.

In the course of a brief address, Alderman Tetley expressed his sympathy with the undertaking, and his hope that the new building would be a great help, not only to the church, but to the whole of the parish.

He referred with gratitude to the fact that every year a great increase in the power of the church in Leeds, in the extension of church accommodation, in the number of those who desired to make use of the ministrations, and in the anxiety of laymen to co-operate with the clergy in the work of the church. In conclusion, Mr. Tetley expressed his hope that the church would show that its practical sympathy with the work of Stourton.

The Rev. G. H. Clark then delivered a short address, in which he explained that the church was not being able to secure a suitable building in the place, and he had been providing the Board of Schools being in a transient state. He was glad that this fine building was being erected, and he hoped that it would be a great help to the parish.

My Darling Nellie, I have been thinking over what you said about waiting till we have purchased a good stock of furniture before marrying. I like the idea of waiting for another year, or so, and now I think I see a good way of getting over the difficulty. You have I daresay noticed a notice in the Leeds Mercury of the 10th inst. about a place just past the Grand Theatre, North Street, Leeds. They have one of those sky signs. If we go there we can get whatever furniture we want on easy terms of payment, and we can get it at a price that you are going to say, that I know what you mean, that it is a mistake. The furniture is both good and cheap and we can go and see it and get full information whenever we like. We might go to-night together; they have sixteen show-rooms, so that we are sure to see what we want. You know Mr. Thompson's place where we called last week, and you said what a nice home they had, was talking to Mr. Thompson to-day, and drew him out, and he told me that that was where they got their furniture. If he had not told me I should never have dreamt of waiting for you at the Station to-night at six o'clock.

Yours ever,
GEORGE

John Whiting and Mr. H. B. Jamieson, on behalf of the Leeds Temperance Council, translated the Wesleyan hymn on temperance, with which it was helping the cause, and wished their efforts to be successful.—The Rev. Charles Gerrst thought it was an encouraging sign of the times when the head of every Protestant Church in England during the past year had been

They must never stop short of total abstinence from the individual and prohibition by the State. There had been rumblings in the past, but no more. That rumbling would grow louder and louder, for they would give the traffic no quarter. (Applause.)

Agnes Slack, honorary secretary of the National British Women's Temperance Association, said that the other day she was asked to return temperance work, and she answered, "I don't know, what he thought would be the result of the temperance question. If it was a— " The moment she said this

What a law thing it would be to have, if, only a fine upon our Statute Book, to show could be buried at the drink and paths of peace, happiness, and amen to all the people of Great Britain. (p. 10.)

Rev. G. A. Bennetts concurred with the Rev. in thinking that the temperance movement was not sufficiently taken up by the ladies. Some of the ladies

Mr. [unclear] told him that so many meetings were being held that there was not time for temperance gatherings. Would it not be better if they swept away some of their former entertainments so that they might pay more attention to the saving of the soul and to preventing the awful downward slide into this whirlpool of evil? (Loud and cries of "That's it.")

[We are not responsible for the opinions of our correspondents. E. J.]

As we Rothwell people are almost entirely a working-class and wage-earning community and wholly dependent on trade for our living, would it not be interesting and of use to us to raise the question, "What are (socially and commercially) the future prospects of Rothwell?" I hope some of your correspondents will think over this question, and get up a friendly discussion upon it in the "letter box column" of your useful paper.

On receipt of my quarterly gas bill this week, I was surprised and gratified, to find that the Gas Company, in a most liberal manner, reduced the price of gas to the general consumer, by allowing an additional tolerance per thousand discount, if paid in advance. Unfavourable weather prevailing on Whit-Tuesday, when the children connected with the Rothwell Primitive School, who have visited Nostel Priory, arrangements were made for out-door recreations nearer home. On Saturday last the scholars met at the school in the forenoon, and proceeded in procession to a field on Rothwell Haigh, kindly lent for the occasion by Mr. J. Oliver. Games were indulged in, tea served at half-past one, and the day closed with singing during the evening. The weather being fine, all thoroughly enjoyed the picnic.

STOUTLAND INFIRMARY DEMONSTRATION.

To the Editor of the Railroad Times.

Sir,

I have read with surprise the letter in your issue of the 16th inst., from Mr. A. E. Greening, and am sorry he should in any way want to degrade Stoutland from taking their share in the support of our local charities. It is surprising to me that he has not taken the same route near for eight years, and has never been obliged to before now, as to an income of $4000 a year, and a salary of $1000 a year, he can well increase it; also he says we must to paralyze Sunday school work, and tend to Sabbath breaking. I am sorry to hear that he is so much inclined to take part in our procession, so if asking them to come and see the work, and to give a prevailing the work, so if I say, Stoutland, go with your work, and your commensurate years ago with a yearly turnover of $27 and last year the same, and the same, and the same, all credit due to him. If Mr. Greening will come and see and show us a better way, I have found it very glad, but I am sure that he will be glad with our work as it is carried on all over the country; that is, I hope, and I am sure that he will give them their support in future as in the past.

Yours etc.

WHAT TO EAT, DRINK, AND AVOID.
 By a Medical Man.

Diet—Under this name I understand what is the best. Every man or woman must be a law unto themselves as to what to eat, drink, and avoid. The saying, "One man's meat is another man's poison" is very true. I have seen many a man and woman who are roundings have much to say in the matter. In the Arctic regions you can eat and relish fats or fat meats, and a warm water, and be comfortable. Why do our countrymen suffer so much from liver complaint? It is because our insular training has made them eat and drink a lore for roast beef, and cold water, and cold beer, and cold wine, and with one result, liver complaint. Were we only rational and adapted our diet to our surroundings we would be healthy. I think that the Eskimo is much greater to us than animal food would be healthier.

The foregoing observations lead us up to consider the question of the use of the liver. I consider the Dr. Tibbles' Vi-Cocoa sets so beneficially to the liver. Dr. Tibbles' Vi-Cocoa has in it the four ingraduals of a purely vegetable extraction, and while the ingredients are of the most delicate and purest quality, they exert in any sense of the mode to either consider drugs or medicines. They are neither more or less strengthening, nourishing, restorative, or tonic, than the most common vegetable food, while at the same time they build up the whole constitution in a way that has never been done before. This is the most valuable property of the medicine, for a proper discharge of its functions, that it builds up its various tissues to highest pitch of efficiency.

And more merit alone is what we claim for Dr. Tibbles' Vi-Coco, and we are prepared to send to any reader who knows that The Northmen Times a daily paper, and is a subscriber to it, a copy of the same, if he will pay. There is no name to all this. It is a plain, honest, straightforward offer. It is done to introduce the merits of Vi-Coco, into every home. Dr. Tibbles' Vi-Coco is a source of refreshment, and health, and vitality is invaluable; may, more than this; for all who wish to face the strife and battle of life with

Dr. Tibbles' Vi-Coccos is made up in 6d. packets, and 9d and 1s. 6d. tins. It can be obtained from all Grocers, Chemists, and Stores, or from Dr. Tibbles' Vi-Coccos, Limited, 60, 61, and 62, Banbill Bow London, K.C.

ROTHWELL MUTUAL IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY.

On Friday evening last, there was the largest attendance of the present season at the weekly meeting of the above Association. The essayist was Miss Bertha Kirkhy, who read a paper on "Klondyke" which was well received. So good an audience, and did ample credit to her research and veracity. Of course everybody was anxious to know all that could be said about the modern El Dorado, and Miss Kirkhy presented a very correct and district. Its locality and extent were illustrated by maps and diagrams, the area being about that of France, and situated between the Rocky mountains, and westered by the river Yukon, 2000 miles in length. Alluvial gold mines have been known of in Klondike for some time, it is little more than 10 months since the discovery was made of this marvellous wealth of its soil. One of the only forty feet in extent; another £30,000 in seven months. The quarries had in unknown, but from all many millions of pounds sterling is found in this marvellous country. A young lady also gave directions how to get there, what to take along, and also the difficulties (great and numberless) of the perilous journey.

of which Miss Kirkby answered success and the hearty vote of thanks at which was supported by the Rev. J. B. Mrs. Malby, Miss Marshall, Miss Greaves, Mr. Kalc, Mr. F. Hargreaves, A. W. Seanor, and others.

EAST AND WEST YORKS
UNION, HALIFAX.

The official traffic return for the railway for the week ending October 19, 1897, is £225; the amount during the corresponding week last year was £209, showing an increase of £16. For the week ending October 20th, the return is £2153, against £2740 for the corresponding period last year, an increase of £413.

To meet the popular demand for information on the subject of the gold fields of Northern Alberta, Messrs. Allen, the well-known shipwreck hunters, have issued a bright and up-to-date pamphlet, "The Gold Fields of Northern Alberta," which is a valuable addition to the literature of the West. Naturally Klondike and the rich deposits of the Yukon Valley receive conthat the wealth of the surface deposits of this region has not been exaggerated, more valuable areas of gold-bearing quartz have been discovered, and the prospectors, exploitation to place this vast territory in the forefront of gold producing countries. The mining prospector is advised how to reach the gold fields, and when to make this journey, and a mining account is given of the other varied regions of this Dominion. Messrs. Allan, however, wish the Emigrant not to neglect the more settled portions of the Dominion. The recent discoveries of touched upon, while here and there some more positive, but perhaps more tangible, can be acquired from following agriculturists in Manitoba or British Columbia. We recommend the attention of all who contemplate a new home in the Dominion to the pamphlet, Admiral's Resources, both mineral and agricultural, which is precisely inexhaustible. We understand the pamphlet can be obtained free of charge from Messrs. Allan, 19, James Street, Liverpool.

AN UNCONVENTIONAL TALE.

The following story from the French of Emile Maupassant is sufficiently unconventional to be interesting and has just enough probability to confirm the theory of the realist.

A young man, an orphan, was sent to a banker at Paris with the warmest recommendations. The banker received

"I will be back at once," he says to his protégé and leaves him in his private office. The young man glances carelessly around the room and sees on the table before him a package pinned under a paper-splight. On each package is pinned a piece of paper bearing the magic words, "One hundred thousand francs."

A foolhardy idea flashes through the head of the young man. "Nobody will notice," says to himself, "if I only for a minute the young man feels his hair standing on end. The 200,000 francs burns against his chest. But what is he to do? Put them back under the paperweight? His protector will notice it. Should he tell him of his dishonest act? The banker must find such

First he thinks he will throw himself into the Seine. Then he wants to put a bullet through his brains, then fly to Belgium, and at last, after an hour's insufferable gush and fear, he decides to do what he ought to have done at first.

He goes home, wraps up the money and closes in the package a letter in which he confesses his foolhardy stupidity and asks

"So your conscience troubles you! You go to a sorry coward! First you commit a crime and then you get frightened. But I am not of that kind. I could have kept all the money."

"I don't want to," I said to myself, "but each one here is your share. The other will keep myself."

And with this he hands the young man a package of money. The miserable man feels as if struck by lightning. He feels as crushed to earth by fate. Ent suddenly starts and cries:—

"You dare not, you wretch! This money is not here for you. I must and will have it!" With this he rushes on the man and seizes him by the throat.

"Are you crazy, fool?" laughs the powerful messenger as with a blow he frees himself. "No stoppages or I will keep all."

"Yes or no! Will you give me the

"No; you must liberate them!"

"No; that will misserve my head!"

Beyond the table, with hands and despair,
The young man grasps a knife from the table
And strikes. The messenger stinks lifeless.

The banker, as a matter of course, has Dismissed the money. He notifies the police And puts them on the right track. When A guard of the law enters the garret,
He finds the unfortunate lying on the Floor beside the dead messenger, the blood Of money. He is arrested, charged with Selling and murdering his confederate and Sentenced to death.

This narrative is true word—for word.
The young man was innocently sentenced death by human justice. It had to sentence him.

How many unknown tragedies are there which the Almighty alone can key?

SON FOOTBALL AT ODLESFORD.

Editor of the Rothwell Times,

I would like to allow me a small space in your columns for remarks in connection with a match which was played last Saturday,

but because of the way were adjusted by a referee, who the rules of the game whatever.
posed in the evening papers, was it is no doubt a credit to him who can read such results, and person who understands the game seen one goal to nil. One of the Woodlesford team was when the across the field while only two of ers near the posts, one full-back
The Woodlesford player was in ward by several yards, along with side, when the ball was passed, attempted to play the ball know-ed, but the other one stood between goal-keeper and put in a kick
I find the off-side rule arising from a kick for the Leeds team. In the Woodlesford players inter-with his foot, but he can reach the ball down by his hand and explain about "handed," and kick, but the referee gave it in a Leeds captain took his men off the pitch to have done before; and again, we were charging the Leeds players where near hand the ball. This we appealed for a corner kick the Leeds player behind the posts, a goal kick for the Leeds team, understood about the rules of the referee understood the rules of the referee, we have in no small number of complaints we have in no small number in particular. Please accept and oblige.

A LOVER OF FAIR PLAY
